UAW PROMISES FINISH BATTLE

SCORE OF HIGH NAZIS SHOCKED BY READING AMERICAN CHARGES

DEFENDANTS SURPRISED AS STORY OF NAZI PLOTTINGS UNFOLDED

By NOLAND NORGAARD

NUERNBERG, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A score of high nazis listened in shocked surprise today while American prosecutors told the international military tribunal how the nazis plotted and seized power in Germany, killing or imprisoning any who opposed them.

An affidavit signed by Wilhelm Frick, once "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia, the day before the trial opened told how Hermann Goering carried out the 1934 blood purge in Northern Germany on Hitler's orders, after Heinrich Himmler convinced the feuhrer of a plot.

"Many people were arrested," the Frick affidavit said. "Something like a hundred, or even more, were killed. All this was done without resort to legal proceedings. They were just killed on the spot. Many people were killed—I don't know how many, who actually did not have anything to do with the Putsch.

Maj. Frank Wallis of Boston, assistant U. S. prosecutor, produced numerous minutes of early Hitler cabinet meeting at which five of the current defendants laid the groundwork for the rape of Germany in an ambitious step toward attempting to dominate the world.

Mounting Stack of Documents.

The prosecution told with mounting stacks of documents, all meticulously kept by the nazis themselves, how the followers of Hitler finally gained power in 1933, almost immediately set up concentration camps and outlawed opposing political parties.

As the third day's session opened the four-power court ruled that Jew-baiter Julius Streicher was sane and must stand trial and denied a defense motion which asked postponement of the trial of Martin Bormann, Hitler's missing deputy, who is being tried in absentia.

The tribunal accepted a medical board report finding Streicher sane and Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrencee, presiding, ruled that his trial will proceed.

For the first time since the trial opened two days ago, the accused German leaders appeared in high spirits. Smiling all the time, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering chatted animatedly with defense counsel. Rudolf Hess, who has had only a vacant stare for most of the court proceedings, laughed for the first time as he talked with former foreign minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop. Even the stern high command generals, Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl, were smiling.

Scheming and Aggression

Several hundred Reich documents selected from the file of more than 2,500 amassed by U. S. investigators will outline in the German's own words the scheming and aggression by which Hitler and his henchmen led the world into World War II, declared Col. Robert Storey of Dallas, Texas, an assistant U. S. prosecutor.

Story credited Maj. William S. Coogan with most of the responsibility for screening and analyzing the tons of such material which were sifted for evidence against the Germans on trial.

Before the morning session was adjourned at 12:27 p. m. (5:27 a. m. CST), the rise to power of the Nazi party in the early 1930s was

DAMASKINOS SAYS HE WILL RESIGN AS REGENT OF GREECE

ATHENS, Nov. 22—(AP)—Archbishop Damaskinos announced today he definitely would resign as regent of Greece.

He made the announcement to a press conference shortly after the 85-year'old Liberal leader, Themistokles Sophuhs, was sworn in as Premier, heading a new cabinet, Damaskinos said he would make a statement to the Greek people later in the day.

Sophoulis said in a press conference that Damaskinos was forced by the British to hold up his resignation last night and swear in the new government. He said British envoy Hector MacNeil called upon Damaskinos and told him that unless he helped set up the new government, he (MacNeil) would leave at once for London as a mark of protest.

Earlier it had been announced that Damaskinos had withdrawn his resignation so that he could swear in the new government because the outgoing cabinet of Panayotis Kanellopoulis had no contitutional power to do so.

The annuncement of a new cabinet resolved a sustained crisis.

The solution of the crisis came after a day and night of discussions, amid rising political tension, during which British commander Sir Ronald Scobie was reported to have banned all public gatherings and to have confined British troops in Athens to their barracks.

Season's Initial Killing Frost In Texas Registered

By The Associated Press.

The season's first killing frost extended from north to central Texas today as crisp, sunny weather filled the Thanksgiving order.

Temperatures ranging frdm a low of 20 in the Amarillo area to 30 at San Antonio and Waco brought a heavy frost over most of the state although it did not reach the Rio Grande Valley.

Corsicana recorded its first freezing weather and a heavy frost. West Texas minimum temperatures were in the low twenties and East Texas in the low thirties.

Beaumont and Houston on the coast registered 35 and 36 minimums.

Laredo's low of 41 was the coldest of the season but here was no frost. Brownsville remained warm with a 54 minimum.

Austin's willing frost was several days ahead of the Nov. 30 average annual first killing frost. Hardy vegetables such as beets and spinach were unhurt.

CHINESE FEDERAL TROOPS DRIVE ON COMMUNIST SEAPORT

NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES STIRRED WITH OMINOUS VIOLENCE PORTENTS

By The Associated Press

Chinese government troops drove to within eight miles of the communist-held Manchurian seaport of Hulutao today as another Far East trouble spot, the Netherlands East Indies, stirred with ominus portents of further violence.

The Chinese Nationalists reportedly captured Hingcheng on the Peiping-Mukden railroad 60 miles northeast of the Great Wall gateway of Shanhaikwan and are near Lienshan, rail town 15 miles beyond.

Capture of Hulutao, less than eight miles to the east, would give Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces control of a strategic port for debarkation of troops needed in the drive toward Changchun, Manchurian capital 325 miles farther northeast.

Contradictory reports continued on Chinese-Russian negotiations for the transport of Nationalists into Manchuria; some claimed the conferences had broken down altogether while others said the parleys are being renewed by the Chinese.

Indonesian leaders announced they would refuse to meet with Netherlands East Indies officials "so long as the Dutch keep their present attitude." This apparently quashed hopes for a conference of Nationalist leaders and Dutch officials with Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, British commander.

The Indonesians said they would negotiate only with the British, until "the Dutch give an order for the cessation of shooting, and the burning of our villages and murdering of our people is stopped."

The native spokesman viewed gravely fighting in the capital city of Batavia, where at least a score of natives were killed within the last 24 hours.

The British reported a "serious outbreak of unrest" at Bandoeng, while Semarang was reported quiet.

Seek to Break Impasse

TEHRAN, Nov. 22—(AP)—Iranian diplomatic and military men were reported today to be seeking through conferences to break an impasse with Russian occupation forces concerning unrest in the Iranian border province of Azerbaijan.

Without amplification, a military spokesman of Iran declared last night that approximately 6,000 Soviet troops had been moved toward Karaja, 25 miles northwest of Tehran and on the 80-mile highway to Russian winter quarters at Kazvin.

RADIO TOKYO HEARD IN THANKSGIVING AS CHAPLAINS TALK

By The Associated Press.

Tokyo Rose and the warlords were only memories in the studios of Radio Tokyo today. American Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains weer on the air, thanking God once more for the peace that marked their first steps on enemy soil.

Throughout Japan, the Philippines and the American-occupied Orient, troops bowed their heads in equally sincere gratitude—then snapped to grinning attention before messhall tables loaded with more than a million pounds of American turkey.

Trousands ate in replacement depots where they were awaiting transportation home. Thousands more hope to be home in time for Christmas with their families; yet all realized what the chaplains had stressed: If Japan had not yielded, they'd be dining in fox-holes this Thanksgiving Day.

SCRAPPING OF VETO POWERS OF UNITED NATIONS IS URGED

FORMER FOREIGN SECRETARY ANTHONY EDEN IN COMMONS ADDRESS

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged scrapping of veto powers under the United Nations charter in Commons today as a result of atomic energy discoveries.

A spokesman for the conservative opposition, Eden urged in Commons debate that all nations above their "present ideas of sovereignty."

The foreign secretary proposed revision of the United Nations charter after Prime Minister Attlee warned that if the world again lapsed into war on a large scale "atomic warfare will result in the devastation of towns and deaths of millions."

Explaining that Russia had "gone very far in making arrangements with all her neighbors," Eden told Commons that the Russians were concerned over "a possible resurgence of German plans for domination of Europe."

"The Russians are not as convinced as some people that the Nazi spirit is entirely dead," he added.

Difficult to Get Information

Eden said, however ,it was difficult to get information out of Russia and territories under Soviet control.

"I would beg our Russian friends," he said, "to believe that they could make no greater contribution to real understanding between our countries than to allow foreign correspondent in their territory or in territory under their control, the same full freedom as is allowed Russian correspondents here."

The house cheered.

"We have got to get to know each other better and that involves freedom to speak and to comment across frontiers," Eden continued. "Drop those barriers of censorship and you will blow away in one gust much of those black fogs of suspicion."

Discuss Iran

Turning to disturbances in Iran, Eden cited reports that Soviet authorities had turned back Iranian troops sent to deal with the outbreaks. He said this could not be reconciled with the Tehran declaration of 1943 nor with the British-Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1942.

Eden said he was afraid the present incident was "not the only occasion when the Soviets refused permission to the Persians to move troops and gendarmerie in an area under their control, and in consequence it is not very surprising that suspicions have been raised."

Russia, he contended, should make it plain that she did not object to the free movement of Iranian troops in their own area.

Eden asked the Labor government "exactly what is going on in Greece?" He expressed regret that the Greek regent had resigned and that the plebiscite on the return of King George of the Hellenes has been delayed two or three years. He said he and Winston Churchill in the previous British government had assured the king of an early plebiscite.

First Full-Dress Debate

Opening the labor government's first full dress debate in commons on foreign affairs, Attlee said atom-

AMERICAN LEGION ENDORSES ARMY AND NAVY UNIFICATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The 27th annual national convention of the American Legion was history today and in its wake was a record endorsing in principle unification of the army, navy and air forces and a universal peacetime military training program with a minimum of one year's instruction.

The Legion's final business yesterday was the election as national commander of John Stelle, Illinois attorney, farmer and Democratic leader who in 1938 served as governor for three months upon the death of Gov. Henry Horner.

In other resolutions the Legion advocated:

That atomic bomb manufacturing secrets be kept by the United States, Canada and Great Britain "for the safeguarding of mankind."

Adoption by the United States of a definite foreign policy; reaffirmation of approval of the United Nation's Organization; a militant Americanism program with tightening of immigraton and naturalization restrictions; continued opposition to all subversive activities and highest type of medical and hospital care for all eligible veterans.

They demanded a national guard strength of 425,000 men, plus officers, an adequate merchant marine; civilian security boards in every community; retention of Pacific island bases; navy reserve training fleets and development of West Coast military training centers similar to West Point and Annapolis.

In addition they called for establishment of a civilian board to study long range problems of national defense and security.

SEEKS INFORMATION NUMBER OF PLANES AT PEARL HARBOR

CONGRESSIONAL PROBE OF JAP ATTACK THERE IN RECESS TODAY

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill) called today for Army and Navy testimony on how many planes were available at Pearl Harbor in 1941 and why no long range patrols were being flown when the Japanese struck.

A member of the senate-house committee investigating the disaster, Lucas told reporters he wants to know why, if it was possible to fly a 300-mile patrol in 1940, similar daily reconnaisance could not have been in effect a year later.

Adm. J. O. Richardson testified earlier that he instituted the air patrol June 18, 1940 when the Army ordered an alert in Hawaii but called it off in December of that year. Previous Army and Navy inquiries have shown that no regular patrol was flown after Adm. Husband E. Kimmel took over command of the fleet from Richardson on Feb. 1, 1941.

The committee's hearings were in recess today for Thanksgiving, but Lucas asked William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, to obtain information on the number of planes attached to the fleet under Richardson's command and the number under Kimmel's command. He asked also for a listing of the long range planes available at the time of the Japanese attack. The Illinois senator said he also wants information on an army night patrol.

The committee may delay its inquiry into this subject, however, because Mitchell announced that the diplomatic side of the story will be brought under investigation with testimony tomorrow from former Secretary of State Hull.

Hull, in ill health, can appear for only 45 minutes at a time, the counsel said. He added that Sumner Wells, former undersecretary; Maxwell Hamilton, former head of the Far Eastern Division; and Joseph C. Grew ,ambassador to Japan in 1941, will be on hand to fill in a full picture.

Yesterday the committee heard

EISENHOWER CALLED TO TESTIFY ABOUT UNRRA AND CHARGES

PEARL HARBOR, ARMY-NAVY MERGER AND OTHER MATTERS MAKE NEWS

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower told congress today UNRRA is doing an increasingly effective job in Europe.

The general appeared before an unusual holiday meeting of the house foreign relations committee. It is considering an additional $1,350,000,000 for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Eisenhower declared any attempt now tho abandon UNRRA and set up a different relief system would be "wasteful."

Other news in congress was made by two senators in interviews with reporters:

1. PearlHarbor—Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill) member of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee, said he wants the army and navy to explain why no long-range air patrol was being flown at the time the Japanese made their surprise attack.

2. Army-navy Merger—Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), chairman

PLAN DEMOBILIZE 36TH DIVISION IN NEW YORK QUICKLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex) announced that the 36th (Texas) division, would be demobilized in New York and not in Texas.

The Texas Senator said he had conferred yesterday with Lt. Gen. J. E. Hull of the army general staff, and was informed that the veterans can be discharged and sent home by Christmas if demobilized in New York.

The idea of returning the division to Texas for demobilization was turned down in the interests of the veterans themselves, General Hull told Connally, since it would probably prevent most of them from getting to their homes for Christmas. The division is not expected in New York before the middle of December.

Hull also told Connally that both General Marshall and General Eisenhower had considered the proposal of Brownwood citizens, that the division be returned there for inactivation. The 36th was mobilized in Brownwood in 1940.

FEDERAL SEIZURE OF TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM IN CAPITAL

TRUMAN TERMS STRIKE AS BLOW TO "SANCTITY OF LABOR AGREEMENTS"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Capital Transit Service functioned on a normal holiday basis today as bus and trolley drivers resumed work with the government as boss.

President Truman seized the system after a 16-hour strike yesterday, the second in two weeks in behalf of a 30-cent hourly wage increase demand by the AFL Amalgamated Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach employes.

The ODT said that federal operation was being conducted under an existing contract between the workers and the company providing for arbitration or differences. An agency spokesman said he assumed the union's plea for a pay increase from a present 95 cent hourly rate to $1,25 will be settled by arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Federal seizure of the capital's strike-bound transit system provided bus and street car service today for holidaying Washingtonians.

President Truman stepped into the second transportation tie-up in as many weeks with a seizure order and a statement terming the walkout "a blow at the sanctity of labor agreements."

The Office of Defense Transportation took over the idle facilities of the capital transit system in mid-afternoon yesterday.

A mass meeting of the AFL Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes broke up in confusion a short while later over whether to go back to work for the ODT. But a company official reported 10 per cent of normal service restored within an hour, and 50 per cent by midnight.

The union is demanding a 30-cent hourly wage increase. The company offered to increase the present 95-cent hourly rate to $1.02 with a stipulation for a 48-hour week.

The president said the union's

To The People Of This Community

Last Thanksgiving Day you wished most for victory and the return of peace. Today you may wish GI Jim or John or Mary or Henry were sitting right beside you at the dinner table—the best examples of well fed Americans in the land. You may wish for other big things or even little things. Whatever your wish may be, you can do something to help it come true by buying another extra Victory Bond.

The best reason you have for stacking up extra Victory Bonds is that it will do you and your family good. Of course the money you lend the government also performs the highest kind of unselfish service such as paying for the homecoming of millions of men and women, caring for the wounded and educating discharged veterans.

Even with the self-interest cut away, like a slice of white turkey meat, there's plenty of extra thanksgiving left in a Victory Bond.

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM DESIGNED ACHIEVE INDUSTRIAL PEACE

VOLUNTARY ARBITRATION AND FEDERAL CONCILIATION PROPOSED

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A five-point program designed to achieve industrial peace, through voluntary arbitration, fact-finding procedures and a strengthened federal conciliation service has been placed before the labor-management conference.

A four-day Thanksgiving recess, however, will delay its consideration until Monday.

The program was submitted by the conference's public hearings committee headed by Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina. Graham's group has heard reports from a number of labor, business and civic groups not represented in the conference.

The executive committee withheld Granam's report from publication, but a copy was made available to a reporter by a delegate who said he felt it should be made public.

The recommendations:

1. Genuine collective bargaining without adamant positions in matters customarily negotiable but with a give and take spirit in good faith on both sides.

2. Provision in contracts for final arbitration or for the decisions of an impartial umpire as the conclusion of the grievance procedures for the settlement of disputes over the interpretation and application of the terms of the contracts.

TEXAS IS QUIETLY CELEBRATING ITS THANKSGIVING DAY

By The Associated Press.

With the exception of Austin, Texas main streets took on scenes of tranuility today (Thursday), as the Lone Star State joined the nation in the observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The Texas seat of government decided to wait until next Thursday to declare a day of composure, giving Austin citizens a chance to witness the traditional Turkey-Day football game beeween Texas University and Texas A. and M. College.

It was the happiest Thanksgiving Day in four years for thousands of Texans. Returning soldiers, sailors and marines dug deep foxholes in turkeys, stuffed with dressing for the first time in many months.

And there was solemnity also. Houston, Denison, Hillsboro, San Antonio, Amarillo, Abilene, Galveston and Beaumont, were among many Texas cities which planned religious services.

Football played its usual colorful role, with games scheduled at Denison, Abilene and San Antonio, as well as other cities.

Servicemen's centers planned to stage special events and meals for personnel who could not be at home for the occasion.

School students were granted a four-day reprieve from studies by the holiday, as classes will not be resumed until Monday.

ALMOST COMPLETE TIEUP OF GENERAL MOTORS FACTORIES

WILL TRAVEL STRIKE ROAD TO BITTER END, SAYS UNION LEADER

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The CIO Auto Workers Union dug in today for a long battle against General Motors Corp. and simultaneously sought to tighten its already nearly complete strike-hold on the company's nation-wide network.

"We will travel the strike road to the bitter end," said Walter P. Reuther, union vice presidnet who has led the fight for a 30 per cent wage increase for General Motors employes.

How far off that "bitter end" may be apparently hinged largely on two factors:

1. The nature of the corporation's reply to a union proposal for arbitration of the wage dispute, promised by Friday.

2. The success of government mediation efforts.

John W. Gibson, special assistant to Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach arrived in Detroit last night. Gibson, who was president of Michigan CIO council when he took the government post, said he would confer with Reuther and other union heads Friday.

At Near Standstill.

Within three hours after the walkouts began at 10 a. m. (CST) yesterday, General Motors' vast production system came to a near standstill. Only the Meriden, Conn. ball bearing unit of the 75 GM plants under contract with the UAW remained in operation, company and union agreed.

A company spokesman announced at 1 p. m. (CST) that the corporation's entire production force of 162,000 workers was idle. Another 100,000 on the company payroll are either salaried workers or members of other unions, the spokesman said, adding there was no way of determining how many of these were affected by the strike.

Other Shutdowns.

George Romney, general manager of the Automobile Manufacturers' association, had predicted a shutdown of all but one other car producer (presumably Ford) within a week after the start of a General Motors strike.

In a statement late yesterday Romney said the other companies would "struggle to continue production" despite their reliance on General Motors for essential parts.

R. J. Thomas, UAW-CIO president, said the Union had a $4,000,000 strike fund. Additional support from the National CIO has been intimated.

No Strike Compensation.

Reuther said however, that "We will not be able to pay the strikers any compensation."

"We will fight to prevent evictions," he declared, "We will pay rent where it is necessary. We will pay doctor bills."

Asked whether the union could withstand a year-long strike, Reuther replied only that "we will not call off this strike until we gat our wage demands."

Governor Harry F. Kelly of Michigan offered state police help in maintaining order but said he did not "assume there will be disorder." Precautions are necessary, he said, because of the strike's "magnitude."

Wages, Demands Auto Workers.

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The average General Motors production worker has been earning $1.12 to $1.15 per hour, by union estimates, and $1.18 per hour, by company estimates.

The United Automobile Workers (CIO) is demanding a 30 per cent wage increase, which would

SUBORDINATE SEEKS TO SHIFT YAMASHITA CRIMES TO OTHERS

By DEAN SCHEDLER

MANILA, No. 22.—(AP)—Blame for the rape of Manila and thousands of Japanese atrocities in the Philippines became a will-o-the-wisp in the sross examination testimony today of Lt. Gen. Akiro Muto in defense of his former boss, Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Kamashita.

The man who was Yamashita's chief of staff sought at "the tiger's" war crimes trial to shift the blame away from his chief to superiors, subordinate commanders and colleagues.

What about the horrible deaths in prisoner of war camps?

Muto said he heard Yamashita say many times he was "anxious about the care and handling of prisoners of war." But General MacArthur's divisions returned to the Philippines at Leyte in October, 1944, and after that the officers were so "busy" they simply had to depend on the reports of staff officers such as Lt. Col. Saburo Ishikawa.

But didn't some of the prisoners starve to death?

Muto's reply was that so did Japanese soldiers, adding he believed "the rate in the army was even higher, due to shortages."

The trial was recessed at noon, for a Thanksgiving Day half holiday. It will reconvene tomorrow morning.

Araki said "the trial will be the best opportunity for clearing the Japanese position, which has been misunderstood by the world."

He and Kuzuu were two of the 11 Japanese war leaders ordered arrested earlier this week by General MacArthur. A third, Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, committed harakiri to escape arrest.

UNION SERVICES BY LOCAL CHURCHES FOR THANKSGIVING

REV. ERWIN F. BOHMFALK, PASTOR FIRST METHODIST PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff.

Hundreds of Corsicanans attended the Union Thanksgiving services Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist church with Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, pastor of the First Methodist church, as the principal speaker. The program was sponsored by the Corsicana Ministerial Alliance, and a number of local ministers appeared on the program.

The Rev. Mr. Bohmfalk urged his hearers to be thankful for tomorrow, disregarding the present difficulties, etc., and spoke of discoveries of scientists and the developing of the power of the world for peace. He outlined efforts and trends in the United Nations to help those in need, showing that men are awakening to the needs of other peoples. He said that the past four war years had demonstrated that men and women can rise above their experiences and become stronger under trial.

Welfare of Others.

"We have come to a greater concern for the welfare of other people through out own suffering," Rev. Mr. Bohmfalk said, and then asserted that this nation can face the future with courage as the power of its people had asserted itself in the time of stress. He said this nation should be thankful for the tomorrow ahead of it.

In the beginning of his remarks the speaker pointed out that many homes were torn asunder and there are still vacant chairs at this Thanksgiving time, but there is ample justification for thanks for today and tomorrow—thankful for the possibilities in the lives of men and in the society of nations in the future.

Salvage the Good.

Urging the acceptance and admission of difficulties now, the Rev. Mr. Bohmfalk suggested the making of Thanksgiving a meaningful thing, salvaging the good from the present predicaments, and living in hope since "God is still in His heaven," and everything will come out all right. He quoted a number of passages from proclamations by Washington and Lincoln.

Rev. W. O. Harmon, pastor of the First Christian church, presided at the services. The program was opened with the organ prelude by Mrs. Sidney Brietz, church organist. Hymns given by the choir and congregation included, "America, The Beautiful," "O Worship the King," and "The Battle Hymn Of The Republic."

The First Baptist choir, directed by S. K. Brietz, rendered a special number, "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem."

Rev. Jack Goff, pastor of North Side Baptist church, gave the invocation, while Rev. Roy H. Davis, pastor of the North Corsicana Methodist church, pronounced the benediction.

Scripture Reading.

The Old Testament scripture reading was given by Rev. W. M. Greenwaldt, pastor of the Central Methodist church, while the New Testament scripture lesson was given by Rev. W. R. Beaird, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church.

The Thanksgiving Prayer was led by Rev. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor of the host church.

Master of Ceremonies Harmon stated that he had been unable to get a copy of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of President Truman, pointed out that an Act of Congress had now made it a national holiday. A moment of silent thribute followed the statement of the Rev. Harmon of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt "to our fallen leader and his successor, that our nation will continue to be the great nation it has been." He spoke of the people being dizzy-headed following the abrupt falling of Germany and Japan.

Chest Campaign.

Sydney Marks, president of the Corsicana Community Chest, outlined the manpower shortage, of some eight or ten campaigns being put together into one, and the advantages of one big campaign per year for all agencies. He said that a list of those failing to contribute this year and those sharply reducing their contributions was being compiled. He appealed for the wholehearted support of the citizenship and stressed the necessity for success in this drive after outlining the various agencies and their duties, etc.

A collection for the Community Chest campaign was taken.

Prior to his main address, the Rev. M. Bohmfalk announced the young people's conference opening at his church tomorrow and appealed for homes for some 60 delegates of the 250 to attend.

The Hi-Y Club composed of 40 high school boys attended the services in a body.

Extend Deadline For Re-Enlistment

Deadline for re-enlistment of discharged army veterans of World War II at retention of rank held before discharge has been extended another twenty-four hours, Capt. W. W. Hogewood, officer in charge of the local army recruiting station, was infromed Monday in a message from the War Department.

"If you received your discharge between the dates of May 12 and November 1, 1945, you are eligible for re-enlistment at your old rating—provided you do so before 8:00 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 21," the recruiting officer said.

Originally set at midnight, November 20, the deadline was extended, the War Department said because so many men were re-enlisting that it appeared impossible to process all before the first deadline date announced.

This gives veterans a few more hours in which to decide the matter of re-enlistment and to report at the local recruiting office, Room 410, State National Bank Building. The office will remain open and will take re-enlistments up to 8:00 p. m. Wednesday.

SEVEN STEPS FOR PROTECTING FLOORS OUTLINED BY AGENT

Jo Ann Millican, assistant home demonstration agent, outlines seven steps for protecting floors from black marks, some of which are caused by composition soles and heels of shoes.

"From tests run by the home equipment specialists of the Rhode Island agricultural experiment station, this effective procedure has evolved," she says.

First: Take up all the loose dirt on your floor by sweeping and dust mopping.

Second: Wipe the floor with a clean cloth wrung from lukewarm water and borax soap solution. Rub stubborn spots until they're out.

Third: Wipe the floor with a clean cloth wroung out in lukewarm water.

Fourth: Wipe with a dry cloth to take up all possible moisture.

Fifth: Let the floor dry completely without walking on it.

Sixth: Refinish with the original finish if the floor needs it, even if it means repainting, varnishing or shellacking. Be sure the floor is completely dry before taking this step.

Seventh: Apply three to five coats of good water emulsion wax, being sure to allow each coat to dry for at least 30 minutes. With such floor protection, black marks come up by rubbing with a clean cloth dampened in the water emulsion wax.

VETERAN OF FIVE YEARS SERVICE IN ARMY RE-ENLISTS

After five years of army service, Richard Lewis Geiger of Waco, formerly an army officer, walked into the U. S. army recruiting office in Corsicana and re-enlisted as a private.

He would just like to get back into the service, he told local recruiters.

In filling out Geiger's enlistment papers, it was revealed that he had enlisted for the first time in the army in March, 1939. He served as a medical corps staff sergeant until May, 1942, when he was sent to officers' candidate school at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. Upon completion of his training, he was commissioned second lieutenant and later promoted to first lieutenant. In May, 1944, he received his discharge.

Capt. W. W. Hogewood, officer in charge of the local army recruiting office, reported that Geiger was employed as a salesman in Waco when he decided the advantages of the regular army's offer were greater than those of his civilian occupation.

Geiger's decision is typical of that of many discharged servicemen who are re-enlisting in large numbers, Capt. Hogewood indicated.

A commissioned officer must re-enlist within 20 days of date of discharge to be enlisted in the first grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Moore and little daughter, Becky, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Eliett of Corsicana and Mr. and Mrs W. P. Moore at Frost.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

traced by a chart which assistant prosecutor Ralph C. Albrecht said "has been certified as to accuracy in an affidavit by the defendant Frick." The rest of the defendants gazed without love at the uncomortable Wilhelm Frick. one-time "protector" of Bohemia.

Became Officers

Albrecht pointed out that under the Nazi structure, party leaders automatically became officers in the SS and the SA.

"The sinister use these men made of this power will be brought out by the prosecution later," he said.

Goering, with lips pursed tightly furiously scribbled notes as he held with one hand his earphones relaying the translation of the prosecutor's statement.

"We are moving in a somewhat shadowy land," Albrecht said in tracing the usurpation of legislative powers by the Nazis, "because many of these acts were by degrees that were secret. Many were never published and were kept from the German people."

Correcting an earlier statement that Hess was once the No. 1 designee to succeed Hitler, the prosecutor told that court that actually Goering always had held first place as a successor in case the Fuehrer died. Goering nodded emphatic agreement.

Goering Ignores Hess

Hess, whom British psychiarists say has complete amnesia, looked inquiringly at Goering when he heard the statement. Goering ignored him. But a few minutes later, the plump Marshal glanced at Hess and smiled broadly at mention of Hess' flight to Scotland in 1941.

After the noon recess, Wallis went back to 1919 tracing the rise of the Nazi party.

He asked the court to take judicial note of the aims of the party, which were the overthrow of the Versailles treaty, the acquisition of territory lost by Germany, the acquisition of areas inhabited by "racial Germans" and the acquisition of other territory for "living space."

Any Means to End

He declared the Nazis announced again and again they would achieve these objectives by any means whatsoever, legal or illegal or by war.

He quoted Hitler as saying he was ready "to tear anyone to pieces" who dared interfere with the Nazis aims.

The assistant U. S. prosecutor said the "Fuehrer system," on which Nazism was based, is authoritaritanism and totalitarism.

"It meant that the Fuehrer can do no wrong and all under him owe unconditional obedience to him and sub-leaders appointed by him," Wallis said.

Wallis traced the noisy domenstrations in the Reichstag after 1930 which made orderly parliamentary progress impossible. He told how governments of Heinrich Bruening and Franz Von Papen fell and how Hitler finally became Chancellor in 1933.

He produced the original minutes of the first Hitler cabinet meeting and quoted Hitler as saying he could suppress the communist party. but he feared a strike would result.

Personal Liberties Abolished

Under the impact of disturbances caused after the Richstag fire, Wallis charged, personal liberties were abolished by decree. He said at the succeeding cabinet meeting, Frick and others urged passage of an enabling act, so worded that the constitution could be broken.

The defendants showed surprise when the prosecutor produced minutes of meeting after meeting of Hitler's first cabinet which included Von Papen, Frick. Walther Funk and Goering—all on trial. The minutes told in themselves how the Nazis plotted to take over the government by illegal means in the Reichstag.

Wallis said that shortly before the elections of March 21, 1933, Frick announced in the cabinet that concentration camps would be established. By March 24 when the Reichstag convened after the election, an enabling act was passed while many members were absent because they had been detained illegally.

The act virtually set aside the constitution and gave the Nazis unlimited power.

ic warfare would set civilization back "to an unimaginable extent."

He gave Commons an account of his recent talks in Washington with President Truman and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada on the future control of the atomic bomb.

"In my view, it is impossible to isolate the problem of the atomic bomb from that of the use of other weapons," he said. "The atom bomb is the latest word in destructiveness, but it may not be the last.

"It has brought home to us, as nothing else has done, that if civilization is to survive, there must be no repetition of the first and second world wars."

"We desire to promote the use of advances in scientific knowledge for peaceful and humanitarian ends and we declare our willingness to exchange fundamental knowledge with any other nation that will fully reciprocate," Attlee said.

Could Prevent War.

"I ask the house to note the desire for full reciprocity."

Attlee then declared the United Nations organization—"if all nations are resolved to use it—could establish the rule of law to prevent war."

Then he posed this question to Commons on the atomic bomb:

"Can it be wise, when the United Nations organization is only just born and is not out of its cradle, to broadcast to the world the methods of making such a constructive weapon?"

"No one of these weapons," Attlee said, "has any legitimate place in the armaments necessary for the ordinary purposes of internal security or the protection of a government against lawlessness."

"I do not believe that in a warring world, except to a very limited extent, there can be a set of Queensbury rules. Such an attempt would be as futile as that at the end of the Middle Ages to ban the use of gunpowder."

Grand Adm. Doenitz Meanest High Nazis

By DANIEL DE CE

NUERNBERG, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Nobody is a hero to the sergeant of the guard, but he rates former Grand Admiral and substitute Fuehrer Karl Doenitz as the 'meanest man in the Nuernberg jail."

T-Sgt. Richard E. Sayther, 24, of San Diego, Calif., runs the shift of 41 GI's responsible for security in the cell tier of Nazi big shots.

He found time to compile character sidelights on the blackest of the Brown Shirts:

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering—"Always a glad-hander and even tries to give us Americans soldiers cigarettes from his ration. He also offers us condolences on our monotonous job."

Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess—"Not crazy but we have to put handcuffs on him by higher order every time he goes across the yard to be interrogated or examined. Actually, he has never been violent or caused any trouble. The last time we snapped them on he grinned and remarked: 'I'm getting to be an expert on handcuffs, I wear them so often.'"

Nazi Philosopher Alfred Rosenberg—"Vain and arrogant. Hates to take orders from Americans."

Doenitz—"Gruff, short-tempered and generally mean. Never seems to be right with the world."

Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl—"Likes to keep his head under the blankets, which is a bother. A guard must go into his cell and pull the blankets down again, for the rule is that the prisonerf's head must be seen on each patrol of the corridor."

Field Marshal William Keitel—"Neatest of the whole bunch. Keeps his quarters orderly as if his life depended upon it."

Streicher Found Sane

NUERNBERG, Nov. 22. (AP)—The international war crimes tribunal announced today the acceptance of a sanity examination report of jew-baiter Julius Streicher which found him sane, as the trial of 20 leading Nazis entered its third day.

For the first time since the trial opened two days ago the major attention was shifted from the 20 prisoners themselves to the actual presentation of the Allied prosecution's case against him.

The prosecution prepared to enter a vast amount of documentary evidence, which of it the words of the defendants themselves.

The court also ruled against a motion which asked postponement of the trial in absentia of Martin Bormann, deputy fuehrer who is officially listed as missing.

Truman, Texas, Was Christened in Milk

TRUMAN, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Truman, Texas, has been christened in milk.

More than a score of Truman's 200 citizens gathered around a sign seven miles east of Dallas yesterday to watch the official christening of their community. Mrs. E. H. Hopkins, new secretary and treasurer of the town, swung a milk bottle over the sign that read "Truman, Texas, Dallas City Limits Seven Miles."

The citizens claim their town formerly known as Mesquite Tap, is the first in the nation to be named in honor of the president.

Mr. Truman sent a telegram thanking the citizens for naming the town in his honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe York were spend-the-day visitors in Dallas on Tuesday.

LIFTING LEVEL OF GOOD WILL IN A MUCH-TROUBLED WORLD*

Communities Are Working Together For Service and Tolerance and Understanding —The Master's Prayer For Unity and Love —Localizing a New World Spirit

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L DOUGLASS

Possibly we have bitten off more than we can chew, in our projects for a remade world. At least, we cannot accomplish it all in one bite.

Perhaps this Lesson has a timely hint: Why may not Christians learn to work together as a local community? Instead of losing sleepless nights in worry over the relations between Russia and Great Britain, and of both to other powers, big and little, why not give waking hours to making our own neighborhood a model of good will and practical friendliness?

If all groups do this ew shall suddenly awaken to the possibility of expanding the same spirit and effort on an international scale. The state of mind necessary for world-wide cooperation will have developed unconsciously. After all it is largely a matter of developing the area of neighborliness.

According to the instructions of Jesus, Gospelling was to begin at Jerusalem. That was the first step into "All the world." Almost before the Church had realized it, the Good News had jumped clear up to Antioch, and was producing rich fruit in that corrupt center of pagnaism. Soon it was spreading throughout Asia and Europe. But it began at Jerusalem. The start must be made where we are, with what we have.

The "Get Together" Idea

Human beings are naturally gregarious. The 'get together" instinct accounts for our service clubs, our fraternal orders, our women's clubs, our youth organizations. Ideally, it expresses itself best in the Christian Church, with its subordinate bodies.

In most communities the Church is the true social center. Within it members have their most constant fellowship and intellectual life and friendly activities. Young people marry commonly within their congregational group: I was well scolded by a mother in Israel because I went outside of our little church circle to marry Milady!

This natural group instinct, which gives us our organizations, our parades, and our mass meetings, was lifted to a higher level by Jesus, in His sublime teaching of Christian love. He encouraged a fellowship of His followers which should live in sincere affection one with another. In his sublime high priestly prayer, recorded in the 17th chapter of John's Gospel, He prayed for the unity and love of all His followers. He postulated His position upon the love that is God, and that may be shared by His friends. This unity is the ideal Christian life.

Father J. B. Tabb puts this Gospel for today into a pregnant quotation:—

"Thou hast on earth a Trinity,—
Thyself, my fellow men, and me;
When one with him, then one
with Thee:
Nor, save together, Thine are we."

Looming large and bright above all conceptions of a United Nations Organiaztion, is the Master's conception of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth. We call Him our Prince of Peace, the Lord of Love, the Inspirer of all that is best in human nature. Our programs of service prevail as they are animated by His Spirit. The shortest, surest road to community cooperation and progress is a common rallying to the person and message of Jesus Christ. That is why it ih up to Christians to lead in all community cooperation.

Signs of Progress

A recent Reader's Digest not only told a heartening tale of civic improvement in a town down in Columbia, by one man's efforts, but in the same issue, Archibald Rutledge also related the actual experience of a planter in the South, who was grievously vexed by the mideeds of a neighbor. Then it was sugegsted that he pray for the offender. He did so, and their next meeting was cordial and continued into years of friendship—a direct answer to prayer.

We may never overlook the historical fact that Jesus made Christian love and unity the theme of His sublimest prayer. As we struggle to come into sympathy with uncongenal neighbors, and to create a spirit of community solidarity and service, we should remember that Jesus prayed for our success, and that He still intercedes at the Throne.

Despite dissensions and strikes and political problems and international misunderstandings, the world is still making progress toward the Divine ideal. There is more good will among men today than ever before. Our UNRRA, with its incredible stores of international relief for war victims, is an unprecedented evidence of man's concern for man. The very anxiety which we all feel for the future of the world is itself a sign of the deep-rooted desire that prevails everywhere or a more brotherly order of life.

Our own community is the laboratory wherein the Church must work out the great experiment of Kingdom of Heaven life on earth.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

The great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving.

All I live, in safety keep,

—Henry van Dyke.

The darkness now seems absolute; men before us have forgotten that it hides the morning star.
—Irwin Edman.

—Shakespeare.

Navy Plans Reduce Discharge Point Score 41 to 38

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The navy plans to reduce the discharge point score for enlisted men from 41 to 38 on Dec. 1.

It will lower the score to 37 on Dec. 15 and to 36 on Jan. 1. The changes will make another 150,000 men eligible for release, the department announced last night.

The change will not affect some specialists, including key punchers and shore patrolmen, nor enlisted women.

For some ratings the score will drop only to 39 on Dec. 1 and to 38 on Jan. 1. These are water tenders, machinists mates, chief commissary stewards and ships cooks and bakers. In the Seabees, however, these ratings will be discharged under the new reduced scores.

"While such a method might prove to be efficient, time will not wait while we organize, as a new venture, the gigantic relief system which is required. The need for the services of an experienced and effective relief organization is immediate."

He contended it would be "wasteful to dissipate" UNRRA's experience, trained personnel and "operating momentum."

Change of Pace.

The General's appearance was a change of pace for the committee, which yesterday heard a former employe of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration urge that the agency be abolished as a "noble experiment which failed miserably."

The witness, Raymond E. Lindgren of Evanston, Ill., testified he and other Ameriacn UNRRA officials had resigned and returned to this country "compeltely and utterly disillusioned."

UNRRA director general Herbert H. Lehman, who contested many of Lindgren's statements, promised to supply the committee with UNRRA notes taken at interviews with the resigned officials.

Report Army Probes

Lehman also said he would provide the committee, if the war department consented, the report of an army investigation into asserted black market activities among UNRRA personnel at the agency's mobolization center at Granville, France, last summer.

Lehman disputed Lindgren's statement that UNRRA has "thousands of employes in Germany who are now excess" and drew from the witness an assertion that he had not been in any of UNRRAs centers in Germany.

Lindgren, saying he is convinced that teams of mixed Nationalists cannot work efficiently, proposed that the United States form an organization to take over the entire relief operation.

ENROLLMENT of members in the American Junior Red Cross 's progressing satisfactorily in Navarro Conty, according to announcement by Mrs. Hallie Steely, chairman, who reports that Principal Gaston T. Gootch was the first to report that his school had completed enrollment.

It is hoped that the 1946 enrollment figures will exceed those of 1944-45, and with the assistance of every rural, city, private and paaroachial school throughout the city and county, the local goal will be reached and more than likely surpassed.

The national enrollment in 1944-45 was 19,905,400, which was the largest in the history of the organization according to Livingston Blair, Junior Red Cross national director. World Wide Junior Red Cross hopes to have 60,000,000 members in 60 countries within the next two years.

Basil O'Connor Elected Chairman

THE FIRST meeting of the League of Red Cross Societies since 1938 was held in Paris, France, on November 15th. The United States was especially honored by the fact that the American Red Cross Chairman, Basil O'Connor, was elected chairman of the Board of Governors of the League by the unanimous vote of delegates representing the Red Cross societies of 52 nations.

The League was formed immediately after World War I. It is a federated body of all National Red Cross societies and its purpose is to stimulate expansion of Red Cross activities, to strengthen individual societies, and to provote cooperation between them. The three-day meeting was called for the purpose of reorganization for the peace years.

A First Task

In acknowledging the tribute paid to the American Red Cross by his election, the new chairman told the delegates that, "To mitigate the suffering caused by war is a first task. We must build strong national Red Cross societies and a strong and effective association of them. As we give help to those who need it, we can thus contribute mightily toward the elimination of the causes of war. This is humanity's highest task. We must not proceed in the belief that to talk peace is to achieve it. Rather the expression of the Red Cross ideal should be directed toward the creation, within each nation and among all nations, of conditions within which the ways of peace so deeply willed by the peole themselves can be nurtured and preserved."

The camp recently started the process of inactivation with the number of German prisoners of war being greatly reduced and the U. S. army staff pared to a skeleton crew. The camp has been under the direction of the department of agriculture.

The land will be used by the state government for an institution for the benefit and rehabilitation of handicapped persons, it was said.

Farley McCarver Kills Two Deer In Few Hours' Hunting

When Farley McCarver goes after deer he doesn't waste any time. In company with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Templeton and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whisenant, Mr. McCarver left Corsicana last Thursday evening for the ranch of Mr. Whisenant in Hays county on a deer hunt.

At 9 a. m. Friday Farley killed his first deer, an 11-pointer, and at 1 o'clock the same day he bagged a 10-point, 122-pound buck, giving him the limit. He was the only member of the Corsicana party to get a deer.

Prisoner of Japs For 41 Months To Meet Grandmother

Mrs. Emma Costlow of LaRue, is in Corsicana to greet her grandson, Eldred L. Costlow, who has returned home following 41 months' imprisonment by the Japanese.

At the age of 81 Mrs. Costlow who is visiting in the homes of her two sons, W. B. and W. S. Costlow, looks back on a life record of which she is proud. The mother of 12, she is grandmother of 55 and great-grandmother of 27 children.

A distinction that perhaps few grandmothers in the country can claim is that 28 of Mrs. Costlow's grandsons and one granddaughter, a nurse, were in the service during the recent war. All 29 grandchildren served overseas. They have all returned home except three. Two grandsons were killed in action in Italy, and one in Belgium.

"I think I have a pretty good record and am proud of my little bunch of children," Mrs. Costlow admits, and most people will agree with her, no doubt.

STATE HOME LADS FINISHED SEASON IN SECOND PLACE

ONLY LOSS TO CHAMPION HUBBARD JAGUARS ON RAIN-SOAKED FIELD

By GROVER HEIMAN
Sun Sports Staff.

Ending a highly successful season with a thrilling 13-12 victory over the Wortham Bulldogs, the State Home Laddies placed number two in District 18-B with a total of seven wins to one loss.

The only loss came on a rain-swept field when they played host to the Hubbard Jaguars. Hubbard, with only a tie with Kerens, annexed the title with a convinving win over Mildred 34-0. Hubbard will carry the colors of District 18-B in the bi-distarict playoff.

Consistent Club.

The Laddies were consistent crowd pleasers during the season and played a fast, shifty game. Their specialty of end sweeps and slashing off-tackle was amply taken care of by a quartet of speedy backs. Pillows displayed great power in his smashes and, combining this with speed, ran his opponents silly. In the Hubbard game he was the backbone of the rain-dampened Laddie attack.

Brown and Baker were two fine scatters and Baker was a streaking demon on the double reverse. Brown consistently gave a good performance and was always there when the pressure arose.

Jones Was Passer.

Jones, although the Laddie passing attack was rough around the edges, emerged as a fine pass slinger and has dead-eye accuracy. If anything, Jones whipped the ball to his receivers with too much steam.

The Laddie line was muffed on only one occasion and that was the Hubbard game. The superior weight of the Jaguars in the center of the line was the edge of the game when the driving rain soaked the field. Bridges, a ball-hawking demon played a fighting guard and Carrington is to be remembered as the pass-snatcher who took Jones' pass on the Hubbard 5 and walked to the goal with two Jaguars hanging on for dear life.

Fine Linemen Seen.

To cover the exploits of the linemen would take eternity, but Bottoms and Carrington played ranging ends and it took an entire backfield to block them out of an end sweep.

Rawls and Turner were as solid as a rock and it took 11 men to work them out of a play. Litton, until he was lost to the team from injuries, Bridges and Erzen gave the Laddies a fine performance at guard.

Wagley at center was the stopper that plugged the holes and he did a fine job. Often outweighed, he was never outfought.

Coaches Irby and Corner assembled a fine eleven for the season. They taught sound basic football and proof is in the pudding when the Laddies consistently used the Statue of Liberty play time after time and rarely saw it stopped behind the line of scrimmage.

Perhaps the finest thing about the Laddies was the spirit they had. Man for man they had the greatest fighting spirit and team play seen in high school circles in many a year.

CORSICANA SOLDIER OF "LOST BATTALION" RETURNS TO TEXAS

SGT. JACK KENNER HELD PRISONER BY JAPANESE SINCE FALL OF JAVA

Sgt. Jack Kenner, native of Corsicana, and son of Mrs. Wilma Kenner, now residing in El Paso, member of the "Lost Battalion," and prisoner of war of the Japanese since the invasion of Java in the early stages of the Japaese war, has returned to the United States, and recently he walked into his mother's home in El Paso.

The following taken from the El Paso Herald-Post, tells the story, and the paper also carried a picture of Sgt. Kenner, his twin sister, Mrs. Emily Whisenhunt, and little daughter, Jackie Whisenhunt:

Sgt. Jack Kenner and his twin sister, Mrs. Emily Whisenhunt, are celberating their 25th birthday together today.

"My world is complete—I'm so happy I could cry," their Mother, Mrs. Kenner said, at their home at 1210 East Rio Grande street.

The sergeant walked in unannounced yesterday morning—to kiss his mother for the first time in four years during which he sailed for the Philippines, became a part of the "Lost Battalion" in Java and wound up in a prisoner of war camp on Hokkaido in Japan.

Beaming and dancing around the happy trio was three-year-old Jackie Whisenhunt, who kept shouting, "My Uncle Jack is home." She is named for him.

"She met me at the door yesterday and yelled 'Uncle Jack,'" the soldier said. "Even though she had never seen me, there was not a moment's hesitation when she saw a strange soldier at the door."

Her father, Sgt. Jose Whisenhunt, was killed on Leyte.

The sergeant was among the first Americans to land in Australia. His ship, at sea when war was declared, docked in Australia.

The Americans were sent on to Batavia, Java, and were captured at Geroot. He was one of five Americans placed in a British camp.

Sergeant Kenner said the Japanese removed all Dutch from Java and left the island to the management of the Indonesians, with little Japanese supervision. He believed that the freedom enjoyed by the Nationalists and other factors during the Japanese reign accounts for the rebellion at return of the island to Dutch command.

In Charge of Gun.

Sergeant Kenner was a corporal in charge of a 75 millimeter gun when captured. "That's all I've ever been good at," he siad. "I can't bang a typewriter, but hand me a monkey wrench and watch me go."

His first visit home will be brief. He arrived yesterday and will leave tomorrow for McCloskey General Hospital at Temple.

The sergeant has seven overseas stripes and a chest full of decorations, but he modestly says:

"Those awards are just what they gave every soldier of the "Lost Battalion," when we got back to San Francisco."

Two Members Of Recruiting Force Have Re-Enlisted

Two members of the local army recruiting office force have "recruited themselves" and by their own choice will begin another "hitch" in the army soon.

They are S-Sgt. Grady Cook, formerly of Kerens, and T-4 Harold Albright of Toledo, Ohio.

Sgt. Cook, son of Mrs. Lucy Cook, attended Kerens High school. He is a veteran of three year's service, 11 months of which were spent in the European theater. He was a member of a unit receiving the Presidential Citation for stopping a smashing attack by the German 19th Panzer Division in France during the middle phases of the war. He served with the 44th Infantry Division, wears the ETO ribbon with three battle stars, and the Combat Infantry badge.

Cook re-enlisted only 24 hours after receiving his discharge. As to the brevity of his civilian life, he reasons that after being in the infantry for many months in Europe, he wants to enjoy some of the advantages of a peace-time army. Having enlisted for three years, Cook says he plans to make the army his career.

Albright enlisted in the army in November, 1941, and took his basic training at Aberdeen, Md. A native of Ohio, he was reared in Detroit, Mich., and in 1938 and 1939 played baseball in the Detroit Optimist League, and was on a second place team both seasons.

Following completion of his basic training, he became a member of the Mobile Ordnance Maintenance Unit at Camp Hood. He was a member of his unit's baseball team which during the past season won the Hood Service championship for which the company was awarded a trophy from army headquarters Eighth Service Command. Albright was one of four men specially chosen from his unit to go on recruiting duty.

RICHLAND CADET KILLS DEER; AGGIE COMPANY TO FEAST

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 22—(Spl)—Company C, Infantry, at Texas A. & M. College is going to enjoy a venison dinner due to the steady trigger finger of Cadet Lewis N. McGuyre, class of 1947, of Richland, who hunted last week near Hondo with his roommate Franklin Bless, class of 1948, of Hondo. Both boys killed deer, but Bless had to shoot his five times to bring him down, and he left it at Hondo for his folks to use.

The venison banquet is scheduled for Monday night, November 26, and it is safe to say the boys of Company C. Infantry, will sing the praises of their member who provided the meat for the feast.

McGuyre skinned the deer at the Animal Industries meats laboratory, and it was frozen and butchered for him by Roy W. Snyder, meats specialist in charge of the lab.

TIC TIC TOC—GETTA COLD DOG!

Never Gets Hungry, Thirsty or Tired Doesn't sound natural. It isn't. But this mechanical horse sure looks natural on the screen, when the hero bends over the flying mane (false hair) and spurs his steed (mechanical) on to the rescue of the gal. At these moments, Red O'Hare, left, steps on the gas, the "horse" snorts (sound effect) and gallops at eighty-five miles an hour, or whatever speed the movie script calls for. You'll see how it's done in the new 1945 Dr. Pepper "Hollywood Mini-Tour" color movie which explains how close-ups of a galloping horse are made. Nice fooling!

Everybody Gets Hungry, Thirsty and Tired That goes for Red O'Hare, Martha Mears, Dr. Pepper's own radio star, and for Deuce Spriggins, the rider of Mechanical Mike. They've just filmed an exciting "chase" sequence with the imitation nag. Now—no fooling—they want the real thing . . . a frosty-cold Dr. Pepper. Before there were movies, tangy Dr. Pepper was pepping up hungry, thirsty, tired people. No doubt you're one of today's millions who "drink a bite to eat" at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock . . . or ANY TIME YOU'RE HUNGRY, THIRSTY OR TIRED.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT APPEALS TO TEXANS TO PROTECT HEALTH

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The first Thanksgiving Day in this country was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks not only for the bountiful harvest which the colonists had reaped but for the sturdy health and endurance that had permitted them to survive the hardships and exposure, that first rigorous year in America. On the occasion of this Thanksgiving Day the state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community.

"We have much to be thankful for in that our national health level has remained high despite the nervous tension, the sacrifices, the deprivations of war," Dr. Cox stated. "Our people have maintained a remarkably high health level and even under existing war conditions, Texas has shown a continued decline in maternal and infant deaths.

"The people of Texas have reason to be thankful for the staidily increasing interest and co-operation being shown in matters pertaining to general sanitation and the control of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox asserted. "Responsibility for the success and advancement of the public health program lies not with the state health department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the local community efforts exerted and who apply in their own individual lives the health rules with which they have become acquainted through public health education."

Dr. Cox pointed out that one direct result of public health efforts in this nation has been the lengthening of normal life span by more than 15 years.

"Certainly this is something to be thankful for and it should lend incentive for further efforts to promote and maintain community as well as statewide public health programs."

ELEVENTH AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH ELECTS OFFICERS

New officers to serve for 1946 were elected at a meeting of the Board of Christian Education of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church, held at the parsonage on Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Mrs. E. C. Woodruff was elected chairman; Mrs. Harvey Hayes, vice chairman; Lyman Barnes, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Beaird, member of the membership board.

Plans for the work of the year were discussed. Additional members of the board present were Ernest Jones, I. E. Renfrow, Lloyd Carraway and Rev. W. R. Beaird, pastor.

Elections Planned Week Of December 3

Elections of delegates, committeemen and alternates for 1946, Navarro County Agricultural Conservation Association, will be held during the week of Dec. 3-8, C. T. Young, county ACA secretary, has announced.

A new election plan approved by the State ACA committee will be in effect during the December election, which in this county calls for selection of a delegate to the county convention, alternate, chairman of community committeemen, vice chairman, regular member, a first alternate and a second alternate. In contrast to previous elections taken by a show of hands, the election for 1946 will be by secret ballot. This method is to be used this year by all county associations in the state.

Nominees are selected by a nominating committee of three or more eligible members of the association in each community, and a blank space is left on each ballot to allow each member to make his own nomination and cast his vote for nominee if he chooses to do so. Two eligible members for each office will appear on the ballots, with members free to add any eligible member they desire, Young stated.

SITTER

Well, if anybody asks,
Life has given we varied tasks.
Errand boy I started out,
Ran the neighborhood about;
I've jerked soda from a spout.

Cub reporter. Next in time,
Fixing simple lines to rhyme;
Husband, father, and today
Grandpa with the hair gone gray.
Now a new job comes my way.

When their parents wish to go
To a dinner dance or show,
Lest the children wake in fright,
To be sure they'll be all right,
I'm the "sitter" for the night.

I'm the "sitter" by the fire,
Who for money others hire.
Until 2 a. m. I sit
Guarding them, and I admit
I dont' mind the job a bit.

UNCLE'S WALLET

Everybody seems to want help now from Uncle Sam. The biggest helping is asked for by Russia, thinking she can get by for $6,000,000,000 and Britain, asking for $5,000,000,000. With the French, Chinese and various others putting in their requests, it is plain that Uncle will have to dig very deeply into his supposed bottomless pocket. But as was said of old, "Of him to whom much is given, from him shall much be required."

At the same time, it was observed that Uncle's pocket isn't really bottomless. He has been writing I O. U.'s for quite a while now; and his financing of two great wars, plus enough additional funds to keep Britain and France and a lot of lesser friends going, have produced a tremendous deficit. Our credit is still the best in the world, but at the spending rate of recent years it can't last forever. Even when the vast outgo stops, we'll have more currency afloat than we like to think about. And probably nothing material in this impecunious world is more important than Uncle Sam's solvency.

PROBLEM OF THE STRAITS

The Bosphorus and Dardanelles are being discussed by the American and British governments. These two straits, which connect the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, are in Turkish territory; but Russia has always wanted to own them either alone or jointly with other nations. Without control of these waters the Soviets can be cut off entirely from the Mediterranean.

This is no new problem. It was to open the Dardanelles to munitions for Russia that the British fought their luckless battle at Gallipoli in 1915. Possession of Constantinople, which Russia is supposed to have hankered after ever since Peter the Great, would be worth little if control of the straits did not go with it.

MEN AND MONEY

"Clouds Gather as Business and Labor Prepare for Parley" said headlines the other day. There was doubtless reason enough for leaders on both sides to be uneasy about the situation, and still more so for the millions of people we call 't'he public" who have to pay the bills. The cost comes out of all pockets, in a line that has no end.

Yet things might be much worse. Suppose there were only one side to this economic system we call "a free economy," and one man or group or special economic class could simply levy on the whole public for whatever money he wanted to run his arbitrary business system, and the rest of us had no choice except to hand ever. There are many nations still operating in that way.

PAYING THE PIPER

With representatives of 17 nations now gathered in Paris to discuss how many billion dollars they should assess against Germany to pay for the war she started against the Allied powers, Germany must wish more than ever that people would stop looking at her and "mind their own business.' But as it happens, this iS their own business—the business of all of us together. It would be folly to fail in any part of it, because it was our neglect of a similar job a quarter of a century ago that makes it necessary now to take up that task and handle it right, for at least half a century.

By that time the blight left on Europe by three great German efforts at conquest may be obliterated. If not, then another half-century of forced peace can be added for good measure.

BOMBED AMERICA

An oft-forgotten fact is that the United States was repeatedly bombed during the war. More than 400 Japanese balloons carrying incendiary bombs were able to perform their mission. Some were carried even as far east as Michigan Devastating forest fires undoubtedly were caused by some of them.

Suppose some of those incendiary bombs had been atomic?

STUDYING STARS

It is a good thing to turn away from war facts and the day's news occasionally, and take a little slant at the stars and men who study them. It is restful and also illuminating, and even the tools are interesting. The most essential tool is a glass prism, which is a sort of large magnifying glass. At Rochester, N. Y., "after two months of trial and error," optical glass makers have produced a perfect mold of optical glass weighing 379 pounds. It is said to be the largest piece ever obtained for a scientific instrument prism. It was done in two months, but might have taken two years except for good luck.

It is hard to believe, with all of our recent war, baseball and football games, and so on, that there are men on this little old earth who are more interested in the distant stars than in the daily ball score. But it's a fact. And such facts become intensely interesting not only to professional astronomers, but to high school and college boys, when they once discover the fascination of such studies. At that point it isn't study so much as a deep and absorbing interest in one of the most wonderful aspects of a very wonderful universe.

HISTORY AND ARITHMETIC

If history were exact science like mathematics, perhaps its course could be more accurately predicted. Prof. Hornell Hart of Duke University has been trying to re-phrase history in mathematical terms.

The size of empire, he finds, has been steadily growing. In prehistoric days no area under one government was likely to exceed 7,000 square miles. By 5,500 B. C. Central Europe had reached the politcal development of the Iroquois, who controlled 22,500 square miles. By 750 B. C. Central Europe was on a par with the Incas of Peru, who governed 600,000 square miles. The British empire in 1939 had reached 13,655,000 square miles.

This growing size of empire parallels a growing effectiveness of weapons. The bow and arrows of B. C. 2,500 had a range of only half a mile. Contrast that with the power of heavy artillery or the range of the bombing plane. The coming of the atomic bomb indicates that the time is now ripe for establishing a world-wide government. If weapons can reach all over the world, so can a single government.

The prize for tactlessness goes to thet hotel which, at a recent banquet. served rice with Gen. Wainwright's chicken.

Peace - - New and Only All-American Rose Selection for 1946

Of interest to gardeners in Corsicana and the nation is Peace, the one new and only all-American rose selection for 1946 introduction. The rose was timely named and christened at the Pasadena Rose Show in California, just as the San Francisco World Conference for Peace was starting its deliberations and as the conflict in Europe was ending in unconditional surrender to the Allied nations. This was the very day that Berlin fell. It was a momentous occasion on which to christen the outstanding novelty rose of the decade.

With a galaxy of moving picure stars present, with color movie and still picture cameras clicking, Peace was honored and its own rainbow iridescence outshone the other roses. Later on, specimen blooms of Peace from the show were distributed, with their autographs by the cinema celebrities, to servicemen in nearby hospitals.

Delegates Presented Blooms

Following the Pacific Rose Society Show in Pasadena, at San Francisco the Allied nations delegations were presented with specimen blooms of Peace under the auspices of the American Rose Society and many letter of appreciation and tribute received. Memorial rose gardens are already being made in Washington, D. C., with Peace being used as the central motif. Similar rose gardens are being planned at veterans' hospitals and in public parks over the country.

Peace has big, rich yellow buds which unfurl to a clear, creamy yellow, iridescent with a suffusion of sparkling pink. It is so different, so double in petalage and huge in size, and its strong growing plants have such glistening foliage that it is called the "Rose of the Decade." It's a garden headliner and a flower show winner, highest scoring variety ever to go through the all-American Rose Selections outdoor garden tests.

Originated in France

Originated in France by a great rose hybridist, Francis Mailland, this "miracle" seeding was entered at the Lyon Flower Show where it easily won the best seedling. In 1943, the following year, at Lyon it was selected as the most beautiful rose in all France.

Budding wood was rushed to America as the Germans were taking over France and sufficient plants were produced for 1943 entry in the all-American trials. In these 15 outdoor test gardens representing the different climactic locations of the United States, and over the required two-year testing period, Peace merited the highest average of any rose ever to undergo these painstaking comparisons and scorings.

The long lasting flowers reach five or six inches across and one of eight inches was measured on the Pacific Coast. Stemps are strong, of medium length and usually bear their flowers singly.

The foliage of Peace is one of its most delightful virtues, being abundant, dense and heavy, with large, glossy, leathery leaves of richest green developing from the tender new tips of reddish bronze. Its growth is vigorous with heavy canes, upright and bushy, providing almost continuous bloom from spring until late fall. Peace was found to be hardy in the colder sections and quite resistant to disease.

Many Texas Jobs To Remain Vacant Even With Unemployment

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A high proportion of 40,000 available jobs in Texas will remain vacant, said C. E. Belk, state director of the U. S. Employment Service.

Belk therorized that the jobs were not attracting workers because of present wage levels, shortages of really qualified workers and a general tightening of requirements by employers.

About 85,000 persons are now looking for jobs and qualified workers are finding work immediately, he said, but of the 40,000 unfilled jobs more than 50 per cent pay between 50 cents and 75 cents per hour and 5 per cent pay less than 50 cents.

Cpl. Tom Westbrook Receives Discharge

Cpl. Tom H. Westbrook III received his discharge from the AAF at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, on November 9.

He had recently returned to the States following 11 months' service in India as a crew member of a C-54 Skymaster. For service in flying the "Hump" to China he won the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster, and has also been awarded the Victory Medal, the Good Conduct Medal, the Asiatic Pacific theater ribbon with two bronze stars, the American theater ribbon, and a unit citation.

With his wife and three-months' old son, Tom IV, Westbrook is now at the home of his parents, and reports that on his return trip from Calcutta to West Palm Beach, Fla., he stopped at Karachi, Cairo, Casablanca, the Azores and Bermuda but that now he knows the truth of the saying, "There's no place like home."

A. G. Elliott, trust officer of the First National Bank, and Mrs. Elliott have returned from San Antonio where they attended the Trust Section meeting of the State Bankers' Association. They were guests at the St. Anthony Hotel while in the Alamo City.

WIDELY DIFFERING VIEWPOINTS ON GAS EXPORTS FUTURE

By EDMOND LE BRETON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Two widely differing viewpoints on the future of natural gas exports from Louisiana and other southwestern states today were embodied in the bulky records of the Federal Power Commission's New Orleans hearings.

The hearings ended yesterday with testimony by representatives of the Natural Gas Industry.

The split was between the state administration of Louisiana and spokesmen for royalty owners, the industry, and the state of Arkansas. This neighbor state, while it is a natural gas producer, still must import a substantial proportion of the fuel it consumes.

The Louisiana official position is that the gas producing states, now largely agricultural, must industralize or face an economic crisis; that the only fuel available to industry there is natural gas, which also is gaining importance as a raw material for production of synthetics; that virtually all the reserves of the gas in the state are now known and will be depleted within 30 years.

Therefore the Louisiana conservation spokesmen asked that the commission grant no more permits for pipelines to take natural gas out of Louisiana without considering two factors.

Other Sources and Uses.

One was the possible presence in the areas to be served of other fields or sources of power. The other was the use proposed for the natural gas.

The opposition witnesses contended that there was every reason to believe more and more supplies of natural gas would be uncovered, and that it was impracticable now to set an exhaustion date. Moreover, they argued, by the time natural gas is depleted, some other source of energy may have made it obsolete.

They argued also that an extension of FPC jurisdiction, whether by a reinterpretation of its present powers of additional legislation, would give it control over the production as well as the interstate distribution of gas and infringe on the conservation powers of the states. Louisiana said these results were not necessary and not contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stell and family have arrived from Houston to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with the Stell and Babers families.

Gen. Eisenhower Hopes To Visit His Birth City Soon

DENISON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower hopes to visit this city of his birth soon.

He wants to see the Denison dam and Lake Texoma and visit Miss Jennie Jackson, school teacher here for 50 years who bounced the General on her knee when he was an infant.

Miss Jackson and the General's parents were neighbors before the Eisenhower's moved to Kansas.

The General made these wishes known recently in Washington and sead he hoped to accompany Speaker Sam Rayburn to Texas at the first opportunity.

The Bank of England is 251 years old.

Does Not Believe Bierman to Change

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, commented here today that he did not believe Head Coach Bernie Bierman had any intention of leaving Minnesota.

Ward, here to attend a testimonial banquet for Fred Digby, sports editor of the New Orleans Item, was asked about a report that Bierman might quit Minnesota at the end of the season and sign as coach of a Los Angeles pro-team.

He replied that he undestood the Los Angeles coach had already been selected and that he thought Bierman was "strong at Minnesota and would remain there indefinitely."

FRANZ VON PAPEN GIVES HISTORY OF HINDENBURG-HITLER

"LAST TESTAMENT" URGED RETURN OF MONARCHY TO GERMANY

By GEORGE TUCKER

(Copyright, 1945, by Associated Press.)

NUERNBERG, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Franz Von Papen has informed the International War Crimes Tribunal that the genuine "last testament" of Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg urged Adolf Hitler to help restore the Hohenzollern monarchy in Germany and to avoid combining the officers of head of the state and head of the government.

"The legislative and executive branches must always remain separate," Hindenburg said, as quoted by Von Papen. "It is my wish that Germany return to the monarchial form of government after my death."

Hitler was President Hindenburgs' chancellor in the last 19 months of the Hindenburg regime, nad after Hindenburg's death in 1934 combined the presidency and chancellorship into the office of reichsfeuhrer. The nazi government that year published a document described as Hindenburge's last will and testament. Its authenticity was widely questioned, particularly a section which by implication urged Hitler to combine the offices of head of the reich and head of the government.

Drew Up Document.

Von Papen said he drew up the original document at Hindenburg's request, and in a letter dated Oct. 24, 1945, has told the Nuernberg war crimes court that the true Hindenburg will never was published. By American request, Von Papen reconstructed the will from memory while awaiting trial as a war criminal.

"The wording is not identical," he said, "but the thoughts and desires of the reich president are authentic."

The original document, which Von Papen says he prepared in April, 1934, while acting as Hindenburg's vice chancellor, was reconstructed in a Nuernberg jail cell on the request of Thomas J. Dodd of Hartford, Conn., a member of Justice Robert H. Jackson's senior trial panel.

Papers relating to the conspiracy count in the indictment against the major nazi war criminals include a "testament" declared spurious which the nazis published under Hindenburg's name.

Von Papen told Dodd and the international tribunal that Hindenburg's warning against consolidation of the two high offices was promoted by the obvious danger that Hitler would attempt to have himself elected reich president or else promote the acquisition of this post by one of his followers.

"Both possibilities had to be prevented," Von Papen said.

"As an alternative, it seemed best to restore the constitutional monarchy."

Hitler Seemed Favorable.

Von Papen said he then broached the matter to Hitler, who seemed to be completely in favor of the idea. Hitler frequently had voiced admiration for Prussia's rulers, he said.

"It is a good idea to consider restoration of the monarchy," Von Papen quoted Hitler as saying. "We can do it as soon as I have restored order to the reich reasonably well. The monarchy must have a good start."

Von Papen said he went straight he draw up a statement dealing to Hindenburg and suggested that with the monarchy and the question of its succession, through which he might express his last will to the German people.

Von Papen said Hindenburg agreed and instructed him to prepare the testament.

Deemed Ntcessary

"As the result of further discussion, it was deemed necessary that if Hindenburg should bequeath such a 'public testament', he should in his last will express his views not only on the question of succession, but also on general foreign and domestic policies and such problems as were occupying the German people at that time," Von Papen said.

Von Papen, himself twice Chancellor of Germany, said that Hindenburg's son Oskar, gave him the will and testament at the time of the funeral.

"Several days later, I personally passed it on to Hitler with the urgent request to carry out the last will of this great historical figure of the Gtrman nation," Von Papen wrote. 'The testament was never published as far as I know, not even in parts."

Following is what Von Papen gave as the reconstructed last will and testament:

His Last Will

"To the Chancellor of the Reich, A. Hitler, Berlin

"My last will:

"In my advanced age, God may soon call me away from this life. Therefore, I wish to proclaim hereby to you and the German people, to whom the services of all my life were dedicated, my conception and my wishes for the future of the people and the state.

"In one of the gravest hours in the German peoples' inner political life, I have called you, Mr. Chancellor of the Reich, to be head of the government of the Reich. The German people are torn apart into many parties and split and shattered by social struggles which were aggravated by unemployment on an unheard of scale.

Big Social Program

"You have built up a movement which represents a big social program and which desires to reestablish the full sovereignty of the German Reich in matters of foreign policy and to clear it from the unjust blame of being the only one guilty or teh world war.

"In approval of this program, to be carried out by peaceful means, I have entrusted to you the leadership of the government.

"It gives mt great happiness to see that the lost sense of national unity is growing again, that the German worker considers himself again a valuable and important part of the German people, that class hatred is vanishing and that peasants, business men and scientist today are again marching hand in hand.

"A large program of work procurement again secures work and the daily bread for the major part o our people.

Big Step Forward

"All this represents a big step forward, for, if Germany is to reoccupy her once so respected place in the council o European nations, her inner balance must first be reestablished by unity, law and order.

"The more orderly and just the manner in which a state is governed and administered, the greater the respect and confidence it enjoys in the lie o nations; the sooner also will it find readiness to be accorded the rights to which a sovereign state is inalienably entitled and which it has the duty to demand by ptaceul means.

'Although it is true in extraordinary times the use of extraordinary methods by a government is indicated and permitted, the experience of a long life, ripened in long and hard discipline, has taught me that it is necessary to return as early as possible to normal conditions under which the powers of the state can be controlled by parliament and independent agencies.

Should Not Suppress

"Advantageous as it may seem for the moment to replace the many parties of the country by one big ,single movement, it is nevertheless necessary that the government, be it even inspired by the best intentions, should not suppress any opposition which constitutes a control that is valuable and indispensable for the government itself.

"I have especially at heart the education of German youth, which had to suffer so much from the scourge of unemployment.

"It is the (standard) bearer of the German future. Its admission to labor service and education is a gratifying progress. But it is also necessary, above all, not to let degenerate the spiritual basis upon which all education rests.

"The rich history of our Fatherland was based for more than a thousand years on the strong foundation of the Christian conception. It is the foremost duty of any government to keep this foundation unshaken.

Christian Churches

"Measures against both the servants and the institutions of the Christian churches—although they have appeared necessary for political or moral reasons—must never shake the Christian heritage on which rests occidental civilization and the historic mission of Germany.

"When God decides to call me from this life the question of the head of the Reich will have to be settled anew .A faithful servant of my emperor and king throughout my life, I have always been a staunch supporter of the monarchal system of government. History teaches us that the Reich and Prussia, as well as other states, owe their rulers immeasurably much. Therefore, it concerns me deeply that, as a result of the last war, the monarchal form of government was replaced by a republican form. Despite these scruples, I have not hesitated to serve the German people under this form of government when called upon to do so.

Becomes Power Too Easily

"Yet experience showed me that our nation—politically still weaker than other, old democracies—without strong authoritative and steady leadership becomes too easily a pawn of its parties and its explciters. Election of a head of state and formation of governments often were the source of great disturbances and shameful strife.

"It would also violate sound policies of the state to combine the offices of head of the Reich with the head of the government in one person. The legislative and executive branches must always remain separated.

"Therefore it is my wish that Germany return to the monarchal form of government after my death. The House of Hohenzollern has a legitimate claim which has been fortified by centuries of glorious history and I am convinced that the descendant of that house will do all to secure peace, happiness and prosperity for the German people of the future.

"I say farewell to the German people with a feeling of deep gratitude for the confidence which it has placed in me, as a soldier in the field and as Reich president. My life and thoughts belong to Germany only.

Signed, Von Hindenburg."

PRESIDENT TRUMAN JOINED IN WORSHIP OF THANKSGIVING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—President Truman, sharing a hymn book with Mrs. Truman, joined fellow-Baptists in a Thanksgiving service today.

The White House family went to the First Baptist Church in downtown Washington for forenoon worship.

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden, the pastor, noting their presence in inconspicious seats in the middle of the church, told the congregation it was "a blessing," that the nation had at its helm "one who does not hesitate to recognize his need of God either in public address or private devotion."

Mr. and Mrs. Truman were accompanied by their daughter, Margaret; Frank Wallace of Independence, Mo., Mrs. Truman's brother; Mrs. Wallace and the two Wallace children.

In his sermon, Dr Pruden said the future of peace depends on the spiritual attitudes of the peoples of the world.

"Armed might, conferences, agreements an dother such actions will be ineffective as long as greed, selfishness and aggression dwell in the hearts of men," he said, asserting it was the duty of christians to help develop in the hearts of all the peoples of the world those qualities which make for permanent peace.

The President joined in the prayer of Thanksgiving "for whatever of good there has been in our past lives and all the hopes and aspirations which lead us on toward better things."

The Trumans drove back to the White House immediately after the services for a family diner featuring the traditional turkey.

of the senate military committee, said everything he saw during a seven-week trip to Europe strengthened his opinion that all U. S. armed forces ought to be put in a single department.

The senator went to Europe as a U. S. delegate to the international labor organizations conference.

The house and senate held no sessions today.

Because of Thanksgiving, even the hard-working Pearl Harbor committee took a day off (the first witness tomorrow is scheduled to be Cordell Hull, the former secretary of state.)

What Lucas Wants to Know.

As for the army and navy testimony Senator Lucas wants, here's what it concerns:

Lucas has listened to testimony that patrol planes flew 300 miles out from Pearl Harbor regularly during the last half of 1940, but not in 1941. He wants to know how many planes were available in both years, and why the patrol was not being flown Dec. 7, 1941, the day those Japanese carriers launched their bombers.

Lucas said he has asked the committee's staff to get all this information.

One of yesterday's big developments in congress had to do with labor disputes.

The house rules committee decided to give the house a chance to vote soon on an anti-strike bill which had been approved earlier by the house military committee. The house is expected to start debating the bill some time next week.

The bill wouldn't outlaw strikes. But it would provide penalties for any labor union that struck in violation of a no-strike clause in a contract.

Proposal to Switch School Apportionment To Attendance Basis

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A proposal to switch state apportionment for public schools from a census to an attendance basis, was made to Central Texas social workers here in regional conference by Mrs. Pauline Kibbee executive director of the Good Neighbor commission.

One-third of Texas' 1,500,000 children of scholastic age are not in school, said Mrs. Gibbee, although districts are drawing scholastic apportionment for them from the state.

She said a basic apportionment governed by enrollment would have the effect of bringing these children into school and lowering the illiteracy rate in Texas.

BOB WATERFIELD IS BIG NOISE TODAY IN DEFEAT OF DETROIT

DETROIT, Nov. 222.—(AP)—Bob Waterfield pitched two touchdown passes and scored another himself today as the Cleveland Rams whipped the Detroit Lions 28 to 21 to clinch the Western division championship of the National Football League.

Waterfield, the former UCLA ace who already had thrown 10 touchdown passes before today, gave the crowd of 40,017 an excellent pitching exhibition despite bitter cold 25-degree temperature.

He completed 12 or 21 passes for 329 yards, hit Steve Pritko with a 17-yard touchdown pitch and scored one of the Ram touchdowns himself on a wide sweep around end from the one-yard line after his 35-yard pass to end Jim Benton set it up.

Fred Gehrke counted the other Cleveland touchdown on a 23-yard run and Waterfield converted after all four scores to bring his season effort to 29 extra points in 31 attempts.

The Lions were outclassed after Cleveland's two second period scores broke a 7-all tie but Detroit bounced back to two fourth period touchdowns, the last a minute before the final gun.

Detroit's three touchdowns were scored by Bob Westfall on a one-yard plunge, Dick Booth on a 53-yard pass from Dave Ryan and End Ed Frutig on a 3-yard pass from Chuck Fenenbock.

ARMY'S NEW ACTING CHIEF OF STAFF IS HEARD ABOUT UNRRA

GEN. EISENHOWER DEFENDS FOREIGN RELIEF SETUP ON TWO POINTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower defended UNRRA today on two points its critics have stressed—its operating efficiency and its international makeup.

Although flushed and hoarse from a heavy cold, the army's new acting chief staff apepared before the House oreign affairs committee on America's National feast day to declare:

1. He knew from his own observation that the relief agency "is operating with steadily increasing effectiveness." He added that UNRRA has been infused with new and vigorous leadership in whom I have the fullest confidence."

2. He was "convinced that the best way of developing the habit of (international) cooperation is by building and supporting the effective operating international organizations such as UNRRA." He said that "no nation is opulent enough" to do by itself the relief job Europe needs and that it must be a cooperative venture.

Lehman Broadcast

Later Herbert H. Lthman UNRRA director-general, reported in a Thanksgiving day broadcast over CBS that the agency's operations are "grinding to a standstill for lack of funds.

Congressional delay in appropriating the remaining $550,000,000 of this fiscal year's authorization, Lehman said, "has added to tht Lehman of innocent war victims in Europe and China." The appropriation bill, carrying a controversial "free press" amendment, is pending in the Senate.

Even with these funds, Lehman continued. UNRRA operations will stop by mid-February unless the $1,350,000,000 allocation for next year is forthcoming. This measure is before the House foreign affairs committee and it was technically on behalf of this that Eisenhower testified.

Supplies Needed Now

"A ton o supplies shipped today will achieve immeasurably more than five tons shipped six months from now—after famine and disease have got out of control," Lehman asserted. "It represents thesaving of their lives by the millions. That is a sober fact.

That is a sober fact.

"Today, tht decision whether those millions of lives are to be saved is is in the hands of the American people and their government.

"Tonight in ruined Warsaw. nearly a million men, women and children art living in squalid holes and dugouts—without food, without fuel. or warm clothing, or sanitation.

10,000 Die In Warsaw

"This month, the month in which we celebrate Thanksgiving in America, 10.000 people in Warsaw alone will die of starvation and disease. It is not pleasant as we sit down to our dinners to know that millions of disease-carrying rats art feeding on corpses living beneath the uncleared ruins of Warsaw. It is not pleasant—but it is tragically true."

Eisenhower spent 45 minutes before the foreign affairs committee. He told it:

"That ravished nations of the world are looking to UNRRA for their relief in this period of their necessity.

"If UNRRA were to fail them, they could not help but feel that not only had the United States aided them but the hope of solution of world problems through United Natins action was an illusory one".

OPERATORS IN TWO CITIES REFUSE TAKE CALLS FROM CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Long distance operators in two cities were refusing to accept long distance calls from Chicago today as a strike of 8,700 Illinois and Northern Indiana operators entered its fourth day.

The last of several conferences called by the U. S. conciliation service in an effort to settle the wage dispute ended in failure last night. Spokesmen for the independent Illinois Telephone Traffic Union and the Illinois Bell Telephone Company said no meetings were scheduled for today.

J. J. Maloney, company spokesman, said Cincinnati and Washington operators had refused to accept calls from Chicago since last night but that service to Cleveland was resumed after having been cut off earlier. Operators in the Eastern cities are members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers with which the Illinois Union is affiliated.

PRIMO CARNERA IS KNOCKED OUT IN HIS FIRST COMEBACK TRY

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, the "Ambling Alp" who once held the world heavyweight championship, was knocked out last night in his first attempt at a ring comeback.

The hulking, aging 39-year-old former champion who survived the rigors of the nazi occupation, lasted only seven rounds against Luigi Musina, a smaller and younger Italian and claimant to the European heavyweight title.

Although he weighed 264 pounds to Musina's 184 1-2, Carnera was floored three times before the referee stopped it in the Seventh. The Big Italian was standing dazed and helpless as Musina pummelled him at will. It was scored as a T. K. O.

His 39 years told on his strength and his slow punches did not match those of his more agile, sharp-punching opponent.

Carnera won the heavyweight title in June, 1933, when he knocked out Jack Sharkey. He lost it a year later when Max Baer stiffened him in 11 rounds.

Five Still In Jail For Mass Slayings

LAREDO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The number of persons held in the Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, jail in connection with the slaying and robbing of 37 men and one woman along the Rio Grande over a period of months dwindled to five today.

Previously, 27 were under arrest. After a two-months investigation, in which Mexico City investigators participated, 22 have been released for lack of evidence to convict. Nineteen were released early this month and three more this week.

The five now held are making an appeal to the federal court of criminal appeals in Monterrey.

The arrests followed allegations that the workers were smuggled into Texas for farm work, then slain and robbed of their earnings upon their return to Mexico.

RICE OWLS BATTLE TEXAS CHRISTIAN IN FT. WORTH SATURDAY

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Rice Owls reach another climax in their football championship hopes Saturday when they go to Fort Worth to battle Texas Christian in the headliner of the Southwest conference for the week.

There can be no slip-up now for the embattled Owls who have two games ahead of them with the certainty of a tie for the title if they win them both. They could take the championship undisputed should Texas—the only other team with just one loss—stumble before Texas A. and M. at College Station Nov. 29.

Texas rests this week preparing for the Aggies, who also are idle, but they will be watching the Fort Worth game with much more than casual interest.

While the Owls and Horned Frogs play, Southern Methodist will be in Waco battling their archrivals, the Baylor Bears. S.M.U. still has an outside chance of sharthe title should Rice and Texas be upset. Baylor is out of the race.

Arkansas Meets Tulsa

At Tulsa today, the Arkansas Razorbacks meet the Tulsa University Golden Hurricane in the final intersectional game of the year for a Southwest conference team.

Having hit four for last week and not knowing when to quit on a good thing, we submit with bravado these selections for this week:

Today—Arkansas vs. Tulsa at Tulsa: the Golden Hurricane will sweep the Razorbacks clear back to Fayetteville; Tulsa by four touchdowns.

Saturday—Rice vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth: a great game, no surprise should T.C.U. win but we're taking the Owls by another narrow squeak; Southern Methodist vs. Baylor at Waco: ought to be a lot of scoring in this one with the Methodists getting more points than the Baptists.

MISUNDERSTANDING ALLEGED IN MATTER BEAUMONT FRANCHISE

BEAUMONE, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Louis Adams Watson, Dallas man who purchased the interests of Ernest F. Lorbeer in the Beaumont baseball club, says local supporters seeking to keep the franchise here misunderstood the original agreement.

Watson wrote Elmo Beard, chairman of the local stock sales committee, requesting that Beaumont either purchase the franchise outright for $20,000, thus dissolving the present organization, or pledge $40,000 in an organization recently devised in Dallas under a capital of $65,000.

Local supporters, who already have pledged $32,000 in stock, said after a meeting they would stand pat on the original understanding.

Watson said the New York firm he represents, R. H. Johnson and Company, definitely would not carry out the original design of the Beaumont Baseball Association, Inc., under the conditions as understood by the local supporters.

He added that he preferred that Beaumont buy the franchise outright for $20,000, thus dissolving the present organization. He said a Boston party had wished to buy the franchise and indicated a desire to move it to Waco.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR THANKSGIVING BY PRESBYTERIANS

By LILY RISER
Daily Sun Staff

At an early morning hour Thursday—the first American peacetime Thanksgiving Day since 1941—members of the three Presbyterian churches o fthe city gathered for a simple, heart-warming Thanksgiving service at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Twelfth Street.

Rev. C. W. Brogan, host pastor, presided over the service. Dr. Matthew H. Arnold, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian Church, delivered the Thanksgiving message, and Rev. Andrew Byers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church gave the scripture readings.

Colorful Decorations

A table centered with a colorful arrangement of autumn fruits, nuts. and vegetables, flanked on either side with a gold paper cornucopia, emblem of abundance, resting on a bed of wine-red leaves made a fitting setting for the Thanksgiving offerings of prayer and song.

The prelude and doxology, with Mrs. W. P. McCammon, organist for the Third Avenue Presgyterian church, at the piano, were followed by the invocation by Rev. Byers, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Rev. Byers gave the scripture reading from Psalm 103, and Rev. Warren R. Hall Jr., led a prayer.

Dr. Arnold in his Thanksgiving message turned thoughts away from "things" which are so often enumerated in thanksgiving prayers, and emphasized importance of recognition of the magnificence of God.

"Thank God—for God", was the central theme of his message, which pointed to the necessity of putting first things first, and second things second, in our personal and our national lives.

Referring to some Christians as "suburban Christians", Dr. Arnold said many individuals were living on the "fringe," and asserted that unless we find God as the center of all things we lose life's greatest significance.

Suburban Christians are distressing, he said. but when you find the very heart of God there is calm and peace.

"Thank God—for God," he repeated, and explained why we should be thankful that God doesn't do for us things that we can do for ourselves. Giving the examples of a little boy who complained of his father, "Daddy won't let me do my lessons for me", he said that in doing the child's work the father was pauperizing the child. "God never pauperizes us", he asserted, "though he gives his gifts bountifully, he exacts returns." The measure of a life is not in the number of "things" received. Dr. Arnold pointed out, but in the individual's response to God's demands.

No Short Cuts

"There are no shot-cuts in the kingdom of God into the magnificent presence of God", the minister declared, in explaining that God makes certain requirements of us as individuals.

He said that we are in the midst of an atomic age and therefore in the midst of terrific new births, and to the questior of what we shall do, he gave the simple answer that we were merely to put first things first, and second things second.

"The Lord is my sheppard, I shall not want," Dr. Arnold quoted to answer the question of fear—"The Lord is my light and my salvation."

In summing up material things for which we can be thankful. he cited flowers, and other beauties of nature as "God's extras", saying that God gave his gifts abundantly and did not intend for man merely to exist.

Give Praise

"It is a good thing to give praise unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, Oh most high," Dr. Arnold repeated at the conclusion, again emphasizing the central thought of his message with the significant statement "Thang God—for God!"

The early morning sunlight filtered through stained glass windows to lend a significant light on the altar and add to the impressiveness of the Thanksgiving service.

Hymns included "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come". and "The Church's One Foundation. The congregation joined in the singing of "America" at the conclusion of the service. Rev. Arnold gave the benediction.

An offering taken immediately before Dr. Arnold's address was support of orphanages of the participating churches.

CONGRESS MAY GET RECOMMENDATION ON SIZE ARMY AND NAVY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—Congress may get a recommendation soon from President Truman regarding the postwar size of the army and navy.

He added. however, that 'action is expected soon."

This source said Mr. Truman had asked some time ago for the delay, until he received a report from the war department about the size of the peacetime army.

Tht navy has already said it wants a fleet of more than 1,000 combat ships and 5,000 auxiliaries, with an authorized personnel of approximately 650,000. The House has passed a bill carrying the latter figure but no other congressional action has been taken.

ALEXANDER M. PATCH

GEN. A. M. PATCH, VETERAN TWO WARS, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

LED 7TH ARMY IN VICTORIOUS DRIVE ACROSS FRANCE AND GERMANY

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Alexander McCarrell Patch, Jr., 55, bemedalied veteran of two wars who led the victorious drive of the U. S. Seventh Army across France and Germany lost his battle for life last night.

The high-tempered slightly-built, six-footer, "Sandy Patch" to his friends and his men, who triumphed in the Pacific theater as well as on the European continent, died of pneumonia in Brooke General Hospital here. He had entered the hospital November 14.

Commander of the Fourth Army at Fort Sam Houston since last July, General Patch would have observed his 56th birthday anniversary tomorrow.

At his bedside, where an oxygen tent had been used to combat what hospital authorities called a special type of pneumonia, were his wife, Julia Lillell Patch; his daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Drummond: his widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alexander M. Patch, 3rd, and his brother, Maj. Gen. Joseph Patch. The General's son, a captain, member of the U. S. First Army in France, was killed Oct. 22, 1944, while assaulting enemy positions.

Colorful Career.

The colorful career of Sandy Patch found a climax in the European war. Placed in command of the Seventh Army March 1, 1944, he trained the army for amphibious operations and led it when it hit the beaches of Southern France Aug. 15, 1944. In three months the Seventh drove the Germans back almost 600 miles. The smashing drive made General Patch the first army commander to pierce successfully the natural frontier formed by the Vosges mountains.

Patch handled the final mopping up of the Japanese on Guadalcanal, moving in with army troops late in 1942 to relieve the Marines. Previously he had commanded United States troops in New Caledonia. For his work at Guadalcanal, he was awarded the Navy's Distinguished Service Medal.

He returned to the United States last March to head he Fourh Army Corps with headquarters at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Funeral services for Gen. Patch will be held at West Point, probably Saturday. Burial will be in the National Cemetery there.

Headquarters Company and staff officers of the Fourth Army will assemble in formation at 11:30 a. m. today when Maj. Gen. John P. Lucas, Fourth Army deputy commander, will read general orders announcing Patch's death.

Troops at Fourth Army stations throughout the Southwest will participate in memorial services for the General at 9 a. m. Friday.

Praise From Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, acting chief of staff, said today that in the death of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch the nation lost "one of its outstanding troop leaders."

Gen. Patch died in San Antonio last night.

The text of a statement by Eisenhower:

"The untimely passing of Lt. Gen Alexander M. Patch has cost the United States one of its outstanding troop leaders. The army mourns his passing.

"As a close personal friend, I am deeply grieved. He was a soldier's soldier.

"His leadership in battle, both in the Pacific and in Europe, and his skill in the training of our men contributed immeasurably to the defeat of our enemies. In Europe his cutstanding achievement was his brilliant leadership of the 7th army."
